Rules & Safety

Object of the Game

To play each hole in the fewest throws (shots) possible. The player with the lowest total throws (shots) for the course wins.

Safety First

Disc Golf is a fun and safe sport. However, there are some safety rules that you should follow to ensure your safety and the safety of others.

Overview

Each hole begins on the tee. Then you throw from wherever your disc comes to rest (the lie). You finish the hole when your disc is supported by the basket piece or the chains. The player who is farthest from the target always throws first. When teeing off, lowest score from the previous hole goes first.

Basic Rules of Play

On the tee, you must have at least one foot on the tee area when you throw. In the fairway, you must throw from a spot that is behind your lie, within 12', and in line with the target. A run-up and follow through are always allowed, with one exception: a lie within 10 meters (33') of the target is considered a putt, and you may not step past your lie. If you consider you're unable, move safely away from the hole and take a one-throw penalty.

Courtesy & Etiquette

Remain quiet and avoid unnecessary movements when others are throwing. Stand behind the player who is throwing until his throw is complete. Allow faster groups to play through when possible. Respect the course - put trash in proper receptacles; do not alter trees or obstacles. Vandalizing targets, signs, park equipment, and landscaping is a serious offense that will be prosecuted.

Out-of-Bounds

If your throw comes to rest in an Out-of-Bounds area, take a one-throw penalty. You may then re-throw from the same lie, or go to where your disc was last in-bounds, move in one meter (3'), and throw from that spot. (If there is a designated drop zone on the hole, you may also choose to throw from there.)

Mandatory

Players must throw on the correct side of any mandatory trees. If your throw goes on the wrong side, take a one-throw penalty and mark a new lie within 1 meter of the mandatory.

Please use the appropriate tee for your skill level.

- The Red tees on this course were designed for newer, younger, and senior players, and for players who are still developing their skills. The par on the tee sign is par for players of those skill levels.
- The Blue tees were designed for more highly skilled players who would be considered Advanced/Amateur or Professional.
