CHIEF'S CORNER

By: Ron R. Echols, Chief of Police

In 1829, Sir Robert Peel, often referred to as the father of community policing, established the Metropolitan Police Force for London based at Scotland Yard. He developed the Peelian Principles, which defined the ethical requirements police officers must follow in order to be effective. His most memorable principle was, "Police, at all times, should maintain a relationship with the public that gives reality to the historic tradition that the police are the public and the public are the police." Peel's relationship principle holds true to this day. It is often discussed from basic police academies to academic course work related to policing.

Peel said, "The ability of the police to perform their duties is dependent upon public approval of police actions." To that end, the role of a police department and its officers has been of interest to members of a community for many, many decades. In most recent times, the television media has capitalized upon this curiosity and real police action is played out nightly in the television shows watched. It is not uncommon to find the police are often depicted opposite of real-world policing.

The City of Live Oak is no different than any other community. In our attempt to make the city a more desirable place to live, we seek your approval of our actions. And to approve of our actions you need to have a better understanding of what it is that we do and why we have to do things the way we do. One of the foremost ways to accomplish this is through a crime prevention initiative called the Citizen's Police Academy (CPA).

The cornerstone of the Live Oak Police Department is crime prevention, but its success hinges upon a partnership between the community and police. For us to be effective in preventing and solving crime depends a great deal on your assistance. The CPA is the most interactive, hands-on crime prevention program offered by the men and women of the Live Oak Police Department.

While the CPA plays an integral role in building and maintaining relationships in the community its ultimate goal is to produce better informed citizens. The curriculum is taught by practitioners - the very men and women who perform their specialty day-in and day-out for this great city. While the training is fun and friendly, you will see and learn of some of the more serious issues police face.

To tantalize your potential participation in the next Live Oak Citizen's Police Academy, citizen cadets will be exposed to many facets of the police department including but not limited to the concept of Community Policing, Patrol, Emergency Telecommunications/9-1-1, SWAT, Criminal Investigations, Firearms, and Crash Investigation. Cadets may participate in practical exercises to include shooting some of the weapons assigned to Live Oak officers, building searches, crime scene searches, and a ride-out with a patrol officer.

The CPA will be held one night a week for about three months in the training room of the new Live Oak Justice Center. Upon completion of the program, cadets become CPA graduates and will receive a certificate of completion, a Live Oak CPA shirt and spirit coin. Most importantly, the graduate will walk away with a wealth of knowledge that will undoubtedly help you to be a partner in crime prevention in the City of Live Oak.

Soon, the police department will be accepting applications for the 2010 Live Oak Police Department Citizen's Police Academy. If you are interested in participating, please contact Sergeant Jesse Barela at 210-945-1705 or e-mail him at jbarela@liveoaktx.net.

ALARM PERMIT HOLDERS:

REMINDER...alarm permits expired on December 31, 2009. If you have not yet renewed for 2010, please make your $5 check or money order payable to the City of Live Oak. You may mail your check to 8022 Shin Oak, or come by the Justice Center Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. to renew in person. Thank you.

DRAINAGE MODIFICATIONS

Scott Wayman

With the most recent rains in January, the San Antonio region experienced one of the wettest periods in many years. The last newsletter article presented ideas how residents could manage the flow of water around their houses and on their property. During one of the rain events in January, we had the opportunity to inspect a couple residential lots with improved drainage systems to their property and the results were pleasing.

Many of the modified channels or constructed French drains that were designed to collect water were performing very well. In every case, they served their purpose, leading water around structures and allowing water to follow its natural course. If a residence suffers damage caused by water, most homeowner's insurance will not provide any relief. Flood insurance, however, is available for residences that are not in a special flood hazard area, and can be acquired for a discounted rate. As always, the purchase of flood insurance is mandatory for federally backed mortgages on buildings located in special flood hazard areas.

If you have any questions regarding the floodplains near or around your property, please don't hesitate to contact Scott Wayman at 653-9140 ext. 261.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

In the last edition of our newsletter we noted that emergency preparedness begins at the local level and really begins at the home of every citizen. Recent surveys have shown that less than 25% of the population is really prepared to cope with a serious emergency or an actual disaster. Generally speaking those citizens who live in areas where the threat of a disaster is ever present are more prepared than those living elsewhere.

As such the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has entered the new year with a new campaign and a slogan to increase citizen awareness. It is simply "Resolve to be Ready!" It is designed to encourage individuals, families, and the business community to make preparedness one of their New Year resolutions. The campaign is based on three simple steps. 1) Make a plan, 2) Get a supply kit, and 3) Know the types of emergencies and the appropriate response. Taking these few simple steps will better prepare all citizens should there be any type of an emergency from a simple power outage to a tornado touchdown. For information you can visit their web site www.ready.gov or locally www.readysouthtexas.gov.

In addition, the Office of Emergency Management has numerous brochures and checklists to help design an effective family or business disaster plan. For additional information you can contract Gary Woppert, the Emergency Management Coordinator at 653-9140, ext. 379, on line at gwoppert@liveoaktx.net or stop by the office in the fire station during normal business hours.

SEVERE THUNDERSTORMS

The National Weather Service recently announced a change in the criteria for issuing severe storm watches and warnings. A severe thunderstorm forecast is based on two criteria. Wind and hail! The criteria has always been wind gusts 58 MPH (50 knots) or greater and/or hail size ¾ inch (penny size). Beginning this year, the criteria for hail has gone up to 1 inch size hail (quarter size). Research has shown that significant damage does not occur until hail reaches 1 inch in diameter. Needless to say this should reduce the number of media announcements for severe storms and hopefully more citizens will then pay closer attention when they are issued. For more information on the weather visit the National Weather Service's web site at www.weather.gov.

SHELTER VOLUNTEERS

The City of Live Oak is still looking for a few more volunteers who may be interested in becoming qualified shelter workers to open, staff, and operate a temporary shelter in the City should it ever be needed. At the present time the City works with the American Red Cross, and in the event citizens should have to be evacuated, they would be called upon to establish a suitable shelter.

The Office of Emergency Management would like to be able to establish a temporary, but suitable shelter in the event it is ever needed. As such the City is looking for volunteers who would be available and able to help on short notice. Individuals must be at least 18 years old and be willing to attend a basic shelter class that is conducted by the American Red Cross.

If you are interested, contact Gary Woppert, the Emergency Management Coordinator, at 653-9140, ext. 379, via e-mail at gwoppert@liveoaktx.net, or stop by the office in the fire station during normal business hours.

Live Oak, Texas 78233

www.game-worx.com

Game-Worx Internet Café is the current version of a video arcade where you can “work.surf.frag”. Michael Gresham always wanted to own an arcade, which led to the concept of Game Worx. Since Michael went to school in Live Oak and David, his dad, still lives here, the location provided an opportunity to open a business in their hometown. Open only a couple of months, the planning and interior finish-out took approximately three years since Michael and his dad performed all the work themselves.

Game-Worx offers a location for social networking for a wide range of ages. The youngest user was four years old and the oldest was almost 70 years old. Close enough to local schools and residential areas, students can walk to Game-Worx to do their homework with the help of Internet access from (10) high end computers, Microsoft Office software, and color LaserJet printing. When the goal is fun, there is access to Xbox 360 Elite (8), Playstation 3 (4), Wii (1) with 140 games. The game area is open seven days per week from 1 pm to midnight and a variety of inexpensive snack foods and beverages are available on site.

Game-Worx offers several other services. You can trade in old games for time credit to play games on site. Personal computer and XBox repair is available. If you want a unique party atmosphere, the entire game room may be rented for special occasions. Keep Game-Worx in mind for a gift for those who love to play video games. A first visit gets you one free hour of play time!

Yes, anyone can visit Henry's Roadside Café, located within the Jordan Ford Dealership. This café is not limited to Jordan Ford customers, but what a convenience if you are purchasing a vehicle or waiting on repairs! As soon as you enter the dealership showroom, the neon sign attracts you to the cozy bistro dining area with a retro look including classic car photos and vintage furnishings. With operating hours from 7 am to 8 pm Monday through Saturday, breakfast, lunch, dinner, and a variety of specials and desserts are offered for reasonable prices.

When asked why he chose the location, he indicated not only was the space already designed for restaurant use, but also the general atmosphere of Jordan Ford and its history of many repeat customers appealed to him. Miguel wanted to try a different approach to restaurant operations. This smaller café would allow him to offer a more personal touch, flexibility and creativity with the menu. He will even prepare dishes for special requests.

Miguel Cavanna is not simply the owner and operator of the café, he is an accomplished chef, which has allowed him opportunities to travel all over the world. Besides serving as Chef at The Fig Tree and Cascades on the River in San Antonio, Miguel has been fortunate to have had the freedom to enjoy other interests. He has taught many cooking classes, marketed his own “Chef Cavanna's Salsa de Macho”, served as a radio and television personality, and acted in several movies over the years that you might recognize “Rough Riders” and “Two for Texas”.

DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Ken Steiner, Building Official

Did you know that if you have a lawn sprinkler/irrigation system installed on your property that an annual inspection is required?

The Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) requires and states that:

A customer service inspection certificate shall be completed prior to providing continuous water service to new construction, on any existing service either when the water purveyor has reason to believe that cross-connections or other potential contaminant hazards exists, or after any material improvement, correction, or addition to the private water distribution facilities., (30 Tex. Amin. Code 290.46(j)).

The purpose of such inspection is the identification and prevention of cross-connections and potential contaminant hazards, and the detection of any illegal lead materials used in plumbing installations i.e. sprinkler systems, etc.

What does all this mean? If you have a sprinkler system installed at your home, your home has a backflow device and it MUST be inspected annually and the report sent to this office. This is to protect you and other citizens in our community. The forms may be obtained from Development Services, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

FOCUS ON FIRE SAFETY

Older Adults and Preparedness for Fire

Adults age 65 and older are at a higher risk of death from fire than any other age group. According to the USFA report Fire in the United States Fifteenth Edition, older adults account for approximately 32 percent of all fire deaths. Fire prevention and planning are key elements in reducing the risk of deaths and injuries from fire. In the event of a fire, remember that every second counts, so you and your family must always be prepared.

Escape plans help you get out of your home quickly. In less than 30 seconds, a small flame can get completely out of control and turn into a major fire. It only takes minutes for a house to fill with thick black smoke and become engulfed in flames. Developing and practicing a fire escape plan and installing and maintaining smoke alarms are ways in which you can prepare for the possibility of a fire occurring in your home. Being prepared in the event a fire occurs may increase your chances of survival.

The growth in the number and proportion of older adults is unprecedented in the history of the United States. Two factors — longer life spans and aging baby boomers — will combine to double the population of Americans aged 65 and older to 71 million (20% of the population) by 2030 (source: CDC), making fire prevention and education even more important for this at risk group.

WHY ARE OLDER ADULTS AT RISK?

If you are an older adult, you are at a higher risk for death and injury from fire for a number of reasons:

- You may be physically less able to take quick action in a fire emergency.
- If you are on medication, it may affect your ability to make quick decisions.
- If you live alone, others may not be around to help should an accident occur.

WHAT FIRE HAZARDS AFFECT OLDER ADULTS?

Cooking is the leading cause of fire-related injuries for older adults. The kitchen is one of the most active and potentially dangerous rooms in the home.

- The unsafe use of smoking materials is the leading cause of fire deaths among older adults.
- Heating equipment is responsible for a big share of fires in older adults' homes. Extra caution should be used with alternative heaters such as wood stoves or electric space heaters.
- Faulty wiring is another major cause of fires affecting the elderly. Older homes can have serious problems, ranging from old appliances with bad wiring to overloaded sockets.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Install and Maintain Smoke Alarms

- Make sure alarms are installed on each level of your home and outside all sleeping areas.
- Test your smoke alarms monthly and replace the batteries at least once a year.
- Caregivers are encouraged to check smoke alarms of those who are unable to do it themselves. The chances of surviving a home fire almost double with the initial warning from a smoke alarm.

Plan Your Escape

Planning a fire escape plan around one's capabilities is a key element to fire safety!

- Know at least two ways out from every room.
- If you use a walker or wheelchair, check all exits to be sure they can go through the door.
- Make any necessary accommodations, such as providing exit ramps and widening doorways to facilitate an emergency escape.
- Unless instructed by the fire department, never use an elevator during a fire.
- If you have any special needs, contact your local fire department.

Don't Isolate Yourself

- Speak to your family members, building manager, or neighbors about your fire safety plan and practice it with them.

- Contact your local fire department's non-emergency number and explain your special needs. The fire department will probably suggest escape plan ideas and may perform a home fire safety inspection, offering suggestions about smoke alarm placement and maintenance.
- Ask emergency providers to keep your special needs information on file.
- Wear short or tight-fitting sleeves when cooking.

Live Near an Exit

Although you have the legal right to live where you choose, you'll be safest on the ground floor if you live in an apartment building. If you live in a multi-story home, arrange to sleep on the ground floor and near an exit.

Be Fire-Safe Around the Home

- If you smoke, never smoke in bed or near an oxygen source, gas stove, or other flammable objects.
- When cooking, never approach an open flame while wearing loose clothing and don't leave cooking unattended. Use a timer to remind you of food in the oven.
- Don't overload electrical outlets or extension cords.
- Never use the oven to heat your home. Properly maintain chimneys and space heaters.
- Take special precaution if you are on medication that makes you drowsy.

Clean Up Week

It is time for the bi-annual Fix-Up, Pick Up, and Clean Up Week! The week of March 21st is clean-up week. You must have all your unwanted "treasures" near the curb by Sunday, March 28th.

Stormwater Pollution Prevention

As the days are getting warmer and inviting us outside to clean and beautify our lawns, remember not to over fertilize your yard, follow the manufacturers' directions for the size of your lawn. When you over fertilize those chemicals run out of your yard and into the street. The streets are built to carry water down to the drainage channel, which leads the tainted water to the lake at the park. The chemicals are toxic to the wildlife that uses the lake to drink from. Please, be responsible with chemicals!

Water Saving Tips for Your Home

Repair leaking faucets, nozzles, pipes and toilets. When you do have to water your lawn and garden, do so in the evening or early morning. Use mulch around plants and shrubs to help retain moisture. Sweep clippings and leaves instead of using the hose. Obey all water bans and regulations.
